January 2016

Dear Prospective Student:

Congratulations on your acceptance into the University of Washington!

Now that you have been accepted, the Graduate Opportunities & Minority Achievement Program (GO-MAP,) and your department would like to cordially invite you to participate our 2016 Prospective Student Days.

If you are planning to visit the University of Washington (UW), Prospective Student Days (PSDs) is your opportunity to check out your graduate program, but to also see what else the UW has to offer. GO-MAP’s PSDs will allow you to meet fellow graduate students, talk with faculty and staff, and learn more about financial aid, housing, cultural resources and much more. We will hold PSD events on Thursday and Friday, March 31st and April 1st. So, whenever you plan to visit, hopefully these days will accommodate your schedule.

To register for our PSD events, please contact your UW graduate program office or Graduate Program Advisor (GPA) at least two weeks prior your UW campus visit.

GO-MAP, a division of The Graduate School, works to promote greater access to advanced studies for students of color and underrepresented students, and encourages all students to help maintain a diverse and welcoming climate that benefits the entire University community. To achieve this goal, GO-MAP participates in numerous outreach and recruitment efforts, administers various scholarships, grants and fellowships, and sponsors a variety of forums throughout the year to provide a supportive and enriching environment for all graduate students. While GO-MAP activities support and target graduate students of color, they are open to all UW graduate students, especially those interested in building a more diverse UW graduate student community.

For more information about the 2016 Prospective Student Days and/or GO-MAP, check our website http://www.grad.washington.edu/gomap or click on the link here to our 2016 Prospective Student Days http://www.grad.washington.edu/gomap/psd/. Feel free to contact Anthony Salazar: 206-543-9016 or asalazar@uw.edu as well. We are very eager to assist you in any way that we can, and properly welcome you to Seattle.

Again, congratulations on your acceptance! We look forward to meeting you!

Warm regards,

Cynthia A. Morales
