

March 2025

Dear Prospective Student,

Congratulations on your admission to the University of Washington! Now that you are one step closer to joining our graduate community, the Office of Graduate Student Equity & Excellence \(GSEE\) and your department cordially invite you to participate in our 2025 Prospective Student Days on Thursday, April 3 and Friday, April 4, 2025.

About Prospective Student Days (PSDs):

GSEE's Prospective Student Days are created with the goal of supporting admitted prospective students from historically underrepresented communities. These events provide an opportunity to connect with GSEE graduate students and Graduate School staff. Attendees can gather information about graduate school at the UW, as well as ask questions regarding experiences, financial aid, ethnic and cultural resources, and much more!

Prospective Student Days will feature a virtual student panel on Thursday, April 3, 2025 and an in-person reception on Friday, April 4, 2025. We hope that whether you're in the Pacific Northwest area or joining us from afar, you'll be able to connect with other students and learn about available resources.

Registration

To register for our 2025 Prospective Student Days events, please contact your Graduate Program Advisor (GPA) or Graduate Program Coordinator (GPC) and register at the links below by Thursday, March 27, 2025.

Thursday, April 3, 2025 at 10am PT: Virtual Student Panel Q&A \(via Zoom\)

Friday, April 4, 2025 at 12pm PT: In-Person Reception \(Petersen Room, Allen Library\)

More About GSEE

The Office of Graduate Student Equity & Excellence (GSEE), a division of the UW Graduate School, hosts events and programming open to all UW graduate students, faculty, and staff. To learn more about GSEE and Prospective Student Days, feel free to contact GSEE at uwgsee@uw.edu.

Warm regards,

Carolyn W. Jackson

Carolyn W. Jackson, Ph.D.

GSEE Director

The Graduate School | University of Washington